INTERNATIONAL COASTAL CLEANUP DAY 2026

Together for coasts without waste

Throughout September, different locations across Montenegro were united by the same idea: making the places we share cleaner and showing that caring for the environment starts right where we live. As part of this year's Clean Up Montenegro initiative, volunteers, students, organisations, institutions and local communities joined forces in clean-up actions across the country, from Podgorica, Kolašin and Žabljak to Budva, Tivat and Tuzi.

For several years, as part of our Clean Up Montenegro actions, we have also been conducting waste audits in line with the Break Free From Plastic methodology, documenting the types of packaging and brands most commonly found among litter in nature.

Brand audit

In this year's sample, Coca-Cola (161) was identified as the most frequently found brand, followed by Knjaz Miloš (126), Nikšićko (85), Carlsberg Group (72) and Rosa (47).

The brands that are most visible on the market should not be among the most visible in our waste. A brand's size and market power also come with greater responsibility.

Thank you!
